‘How to seize your business opportunities in Myanmar’

Myanmar: Fastest growing market in ASEAN

Since 2011, the Myanmar government has opened the country to the global market and has taken significant political, social and economic reforms. As a result, its economy is now growing at an annual rate of 7-8%. As one of the last frontier economies in Asia, with a young population, ample natural resources and strategically located between economic giants China and India, Myanmar holds promise to become one of the region’s major successes. This offers significantly opportunities for international investors, particularly in the agro-food, FMCG, oil & gas, textiles and infrastructure sectors.

Why attend?

- Discover the opportunities Myanmar has to offer for your company from a local perspective.
- Discuss the lessons learned with experienced entrepreneurs.
- Network and interact with exclusively selected organizations.
